

About EnterAktion

EnterAktion Studios, headquartered in Los Angeles, is a diversified and established motion picture, television, videogame and web entertainment production company. In early January 2010, the company successfully completed production on the computer animated motion picture, "Dwegons", and is now in production on their next computer animated motion picture, "Losopolis".

Writer-Director-Producer and founder of EnterAktion Studios, Tom Walsh, made the conscientious decision to create original unique entertainment projects that take audiences to fantasy worlds unlike anything they have ever experienced or imagined. These incredible scripts and worlds of EnterAktion Studios are filled with colorful original creatures for audiences to meet. EnterAktion Studios and Tom Walsh spent years on the extensive development of the fun stories and screenplays for each EnterAktion Studios computer animated movie. For the many original and imaginative fantasy lands in the EnterAktion Studios scripts and projects, EnterAktion Studios has already created, developed, designed and built prototypes of over 480 original creature characters. Very few companies have such a broad library of creative original characters as that owned by EnterAktion Studios. Separate of production investment in company owned motion picture projects, EnterAktion invested over $5 million to date on the development of exciting content, scripts, creatures, characters and prototypes. The EnterAktion characters are edgy, colorful, fun and very original in style and look. These creatures from the screenplay stories can all be seen at EnterAktion Studios in Los Angeles. EnterAktion Studios is producing character based computer animated motion picture content. Fresh original characters are a driving value in today's new media.

EnterAktion Studios' focus: Create original entertainment content for all entertainment mediums. EnterAktion creates and produces entertainment projects from conception through its in-house writers, developers, digital artists, producers, directors, editors, and full experienced production team. These professionals create original fantastical worlds with the use of computer animation, virtual sets and 3D environments. EnterAktion is unique as it is one of few companies with extensive experience in both computer animation and digital and traditional movie-television production. The company has its own motion picture/ production department, computer animation department, creature design shop and web entertainment department that have numerous projects in production at this time.

EnterAktion Studios is guided by Co-Chairman/CEO Tom Walsh, who has successfully created, produced and packaged computer animation motion pictures, live-action feature films, and television programs and specials for ABC, NBC, Proctor and Gamble Productions and Time-Life Television; as well as producing critically acclaimed interactive video games/CD-ROMs and web entertainment. Tom Walsh is also very experienced with running entertainment companies and managing production budgets of millions of dollars. Working closely with Tom Walsh is EnterAktion Studios' Co-Chairman, Ronald Hilton, of the Hilton Hotel family. Ronald Hilton serves on the executive committee of the Board of Directors of EnterAktion Studios with Tom Walsh. The principal shareholders of EnterAktion are Tom Walsh and the Hilton Hotel family (Barron Hilton and Ronald Hilton).
